Gaslamp Quarter Walking Tour

Kathy Flanigan, CCEA member from District IX and San Diego historian and author of San Diego's Historic Gaslamp Quarter: Then and Now, will conduct a fabulous historical walking tour of the Gaslamp Quarter of San Diego for the miniscule fee of $5.00 each which Kathy is donating to CCEA. You will be amazed at the wild and wacky stories she knows about every historical spot or famous name from San Diego's past. She will give the inside information on the district, its origin and the unique individuals who lived in this tough, rowdy town in its early days. The sixteen and one-half block area contains buildings erected in the late 1860's through the present day. Architectural styles reflect the variety of time periods and include: Frontier, Italian Renaissance, Victorian, Ramesques, Chicago Commercial, Prairie, Oriental, and Spanish Colonial Revival. History will never be this much fun again or this reasonably priced. The best part is that the tour starts right at the hotel at 5:00 P.M., Saturday evening. The tour is approximately one and one-half hours and it will give you an opportunity to shop for the right dinner spot for the night.
