January, 2005

Dear Continuation Educator:

Welcome to 2006! This year marks a new series of challenges for all schools and students, especially in continuation education. This is the first year that all graduates in California will be required to pass the CAHSEE, a challenge which we must face head on. We also must work to keep our schools on the cutting edge in light of new accountability measures. At the same time, we must continue to focus on the education of the total child and ensure that our unique population gets the attention and well rounded education they need and deserve.

The California Continuation Education Association is here to support your efforts in all arenas. We have several programs that I wish to point out to you that will support your educational mission and help you to continue to showcase your school to your district and community. Enclosed is a packet of information and applications for several of these programs.

- The CCEA State conference will be held April 28-30, 2006 in Los Angeles. This is an outstanding conference with fantastic presenters, displays, and professional development opportunities. The best part of this conference is that it focuses strictly on educating continuation students. A registration application is enclosed. More information is available at www.cceanet.org
- Each year the CCEA honors our best teachers, administrators, classified, and support personnel. Make sure that personnel from your school and CCEA district are recognized. Applications are available online, and should be submitted to your local CCEA district president.
- Outstanding school based programs which enhance student academic and social achievement are being sought for the CCEA Exemplary Program Award. The purpose of the Exemplary Program Awards is to share information on promising, replicable programs with other continuation schools throughout the State. An application is enclosed.

The California Continuation Education Association is the best known alternative education professional organization. Our mission is to improve achievement and opportunity for continuation students throughout the State of California. Your membership assists us in accomplishing our mission. Please make sure to send in your membership application and dues today.

Thank you for your continued support,

Doug Paulson
